

Q. Define security?

Ans.

Security is the protection of computer system and network from information disclosure, hack, theft or damage to their hardware, software or electronic data as well as the disruption or misdirection of the services they provide.